Introductory Message:
Okanagan College recognizes that some of its activities provide potential sources of revenue and other non-financial benefits through legitimate and worthwhile sponsorship and fundraising opportunities. It is also necessary to recognize that the College is a public institution, and its reputation, independence, students, and employees must be protected.

Okanagan College is sensitive to the impact that advertising, promotion and the sale of merchandise may have on College facilities, students and employees. All sponsorships must endeavor to meet the needs of students and the College to help advance the College’s mission. All sponsorships should align with Inspire - Okanagan College’s Strategic Plan and take account of the College’s duty of care to students. It is important for the continuity of the relationship between the College and Sponsors that sponsorship arrangements follow consistent protocol.

To assist you with your sponsorship while ensuring the guidelines set out in the Sponsorship Policy are maintained, please review the College’s Sponsorship Policy and Procedures for Sponsorship Approval prior to submitting your request.

Due Diligence

It is your responsibility as the Sponsorship Lead to confirm that the sponsorship would not compromise the College’s independence, and that sponsors align well with OC’s Inspire Plan (values, commitments and responsibilities), any specific program focus, and our duty of care to students. When researching a potential sponsor, look at publicly available information (company website and media stories for example) on business interests and activities, related businesses, questionable or unknown sources of wealth/investments, public scandals, and consider: any known legal, financial, ethical issues which would jeopardize the College’s standing and reputation. Even unsubstantiated reports may present a potential risk which means entering the relationship may not be in the College’s best interests.
