Investment Policy Statement

Jan 22, 2015 Winter General Meeting Approved as Interim Policy

May 1, 2015 Annual General Meeting Reviewed and Approved

May 1, 2017 Annual General Meeting Amended and Approved

Okanagan College Faculty Association ("OCFA") operational reserve portfolio (the "Portfolio")

1) INTRODUCTION:

- a. The Okanagan College Faculty Association ("OCFA") Operational Reserve Portfolio is available to provide funding towards faculty members in the event of a strike and to support OCFA operations as needed.
- b. The purpose of this Investment Policy Statement is to establish and maintain the objectives and constraints of OCFA Operational Reserve Portfolio, so an appropriate portfolio can be constructed, effectively supervised and evaluated.
- c. OCFA is responsible for the creation of, approval of, and updates to the Investment Policy Statement. OCFA Treasurer and Investment Subcommittee shall advise the Faculty Association Council on issues related to the policy, including identifying the need for updates and monitoring the portfolios for compliance with the policy.
- d. Annually the Faculty Association Council along with OCFA Treasurer will review the Investment Policy Statement to ensure the goals and circumstances are aligned.
- e. This Investment Policy Statement covers the following portfolios:
 - i. Okanagan College Faculty Association, AAA - Asset Advantage Account

2) INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE:

a. Income:

The primary objective of OCFA is to achieve income, preservation of capital and capital appreciation. This investment objective will be achieved by investing primarily in income producing securities such as bonds and guaranteed investments. They have historically been less risky than equity investments. The higher weight in fixed income securities the lower expected risk/ volatility and expected long term returns.

3) INVESTMENT CONSTRAINTS

a. Risk Tolerance:

Risk is a measure of the volatility of returns. Types of risk include, but are not limited to price risk, interest rate risk, inflation risk, political risk and currency risk. A proper diversified portfolio will manage and reduce these risks. Given the portfolio will hold primarily income producing investments the portfolio will experience lower volatility to achieve the above stated objective.

To understand risk tolerance both OCFA's ability and willingness to take on risk is considered. The ability to take risk is determined by the financial goals relative to resources and time frame within which the goals must be met. In contrast, the willingness to take on risk is more of a subjective measure.

The ability of OCFA to take on risk is considered below average given the potentially short time horizons of the capital. The willingness of OCFA to take on risk is also considered below average considering the potential short time horizons. Overall the willingness and ability for OCFA to take risk, the portfolio has a below average risk tolerance.

b. Time Horizons:

The time horizons of OCFA for this portfolio is the span of time before there is a significant change. Portfolio performance can suffer if there is insufficient time for the securities to realize their full potential.

OCFA agree that this portfolio currently has a longer time horizon, but the invested capital could be required in a very short time frame to fund a faculty members' strike or any job action on campus where faculty cannot cross picket lines. OCFA Treasurer will advise the Manager of any actual or possible upcoming job action.

c. Income Requirements:

Cash transfers to bank accounts occur on a regular schedule and/or by request. OCFA requires income from this portfolio to support OCFA operations. Although most of the required income is covered by on-going deposits, the treasurer will notify the manager of any further capital requirements.

d. Liquidity:

Liquidity is the ability to sell securities in a time efficient manner to provide OCFA with capital. The portfolio will hold securities with sufficient market liquidity to raise cash in a time efficient manner once advised of the amount required.

e. Unique Considerations:

Favorable consideration is to be given to investment opportunities in corporations which maintain high ethical standards, comply with environmental regulations, have a track record of progressive labour relations, do not have business dealings with countries where human rights are violated, and do not have the production of armaments as their primary activity.

Occasionally OCFA may identify individual companies or investment opportunities that, in OCFA's opinion, do not maintain high ethical standards, comply with environmental regulations or have a track record of progressive labour relations. As a result, OCFA could request that a particular investment not be purchased. If the investment has been purchased, they could request it to be divested.

f. Legal Constraints:

It is the responsibility of OCFA to notify the investment advisory manager of any legal constraints. None exist at this time.

4) ASSET ALLOCATION

The balance of fixed income and equity security weightings in the portfolio will be determined by OCFA objectives and constraints. A greater fixed income weighting will result in a lower long-term expected return and lower volatility. The investment manager shall review the asset allocation at least on a quarterly basis to ensure compliance with these limits.

The asset allocation of the portfolio will be maintained in the following percentages:

	Target	Investment Range
Cash	10%	0%-100%

This policy outlines the principles and practices followed in protecting your personal information.

The purpose of the Act is to govern the collection, use and disclosure of personal information by organizations in a manner that balances both the right of individuals to protect their personal information and the need of organizations to collect, use or disclose personal information for purposes that a reasonable person would consider appropriate in the circumstances.

This policy applies to the Okanagan College Faculty Association and to any person providing services on behalf of the Association. A copy of this policy can be provided to any member on request.
